

News and Events

Biennial HYDRA Postgraduate Symposium

Second Announcement

16th December 2009

Abstracts are now invited for the second HYDRA Young Researchers Poster Meeting, to be held on Wednesday 16th December in the North Cloisters and Old Refectory at University College London. The meeting provides an opportunity for postgraduate students and young researchers to present their research to a multi-disciplinary audience of fellow research students and academics from the HYDRA community, to share ideas and experiences and to develop contacts with other researchers within the HYDRA association (<http://www.hydra.uk.net/>).

Abstracts of <200 words should be emailed to william.burgess@ucl.ac.uk in a message entitled 'HYDRA Poster submission', giving title, author(s), address and the name of the principal research supervisor. The deadline for abstract submission is Friday 20th November. Decisions on acceptance and instructions for poster specifications will be sent by Friday 27th November.

Students and young researchers planning to attend this event, which is free of charge, will need to prepare a short (2 minute) poster introduction. There will be a prize for the best poster.

We encourage poster contributions from the whole HYDRA community, which includes Reading University, Oxford University, Imperial College, Queen Mary College, University College London, the NERC Centre for Hydrology & Ecology and the British Geological Survey, and across the full spectrum of HYDRA concerns from water science to policy and management.

Posters from the first meeting, held in December 2007, are available from the HYDRA website Resources page (<http://www.hydra.uk.net/resources.html>).

William Burgess (UCL and HYDRA Management Committee) - convenor

Penny Johnes (Reading University and Executive Director, HYDRA)

6th November 2009